

Review of: "Zero-Divisor Graphs of \mathbb{Z}_n , their products and D_n "

Melis Bolat¹

¹ Yildiz Technical University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is thought that the article will make an important contribution to the graph theory literature. It is expected that the article will be enriched with examples. Since the article is long and detailed, it may be recommended to increase references and add current references. It is recommended that the writing style of the references be given in the same way throughout the article in order to preserve the integrity. I recommend publishing the article after minor updates.