General shape:

The subject of the research is relatively original.

The scientific value of the research is good.

The structure of the text is simple. It can be enhanced.

The clarity of the paper is decent.

The arguments are medium.

The style is simple.

Remarks of form:

- Absence of research literature and previous studies.
- The analysis of the factors that lead to the spread of walking on the "playground" was comprehensive and not precise, and a superficial analysis of the efforts made to overcome it.
- No quantitative statistical method was used to measure the impact of environmental, economic and social factors, the research is essentially descriptive.
- Lack of research methodology
- The use of the social legal method appears ambiguous in the research.
- The analysis lacks illustrations, pictures and maps.
- The recommendations must be enriched in such a way as to serve the research subject.
- The references are modern, varied and useful, but they still need to be enriched
