Title of the paper is quite good & innovative that will attract to the readers. This paper will help to the researcher & managers to understand the importance & impact of entrepreneurial orientation on company performance.

Unfortunately, the paper has a lack of sufficient & rigorous literature. Authors have skipped/avoided significant literatures for this study. A significant amount of literary material is needed in this paper. Thus, authors are advised to develop the literature review part of the paper and also include 10-15 latest (from 2019 to 2023) citations of the work and relevant extracts from them. Authors should also include some recent work in the introduction section (at least 3 to 5). Adopted methodology is good but not clearly presented. Authors have not explained any implication of this research too. There is no statement has been included in this paper that can justify the impact upon society and quality of life. Findings are not mentioned in this paper. Authors have directly concluded the results in brief. Quality of communication is good but appearance of concept is not clear and aligned, such as presentation of the concept, sentence structure, typical words, language use etc. References are not appropriately mentioned. Please include the page/volume/issue number in each reference. Tables & figures are not cited. Authors are advised to revise the whole paper carefully to increase the level and impact of the paper. The paper must be highly impressive and novel.
