

Review of: "[Viewpoint] Vaccination campaigns against Covid-19 may promote vaccine hesitancy toward mostly well-established, safe, and effective vaccines"

Taru Silvonen¹

¹ University of Bristol

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This article raises some interesting points but its argumentation could be improved:

- Whilst you provide reasonable references for many statements, some would benefit from a literature reference. For example: "Trust in public institutions has been a key factor in the acceptance of vaccines in the past." Please provide some reference to peer reviewed academic literature.
- I would advise against polemical statements even if this is an opinion paper. You should build your argumentation based on evidence instead, such as previous research.
- The paper could also benefit from additional proof reading to correct grammatical errors.