The number of participants are very low. 20 participants cannot give significant study outcome in terms of KAPS study.

What is research gap and significance of the study, its not mentioned here.

How sample size was calculated and estimated to be only 20? The low number of participants is a major limitation of this study.

Introduction needs to be more elaborative in terms of importance and previous study if conducted in the study area and why it is conducted.

Results needs improvement.
