

Review of: "The Instances of Insomnia among Adolescents in High School Addicted to Online Games"

Vedrana Karan Rakic¹

¹ University of Novi Sad

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The topic of study is very interesting and actual in light of increasing number of video game addiction in younger population.

This study should have more details about methods regarding the sample, inclusion and exclusion criteria, duration of playing video games (daily and in months or years), statistical methods, control group.