It is an interesting manuscript, however there are some changes to be done.

1-I have not founded any keyword separately. Only inside the article

2-please review abstract considering the background, aims, methods, results and conclusion

3-3rd paragraph - I guess that there is a mistake when you introduce the paragraph and there is a “.”

4-amplify the methods by using some

Kind of flowchart considering the number of articles you first screened and after the revision the number of articles at the final version

5-the discussion must consider the main purpose of the manuscript - please make a comparison with other related manuscripts

6-please review the references using pubmed citing sources
