

Review of: "Integrating Mental Health Support in Emergency Planning and Disaster Risk Mitigation Strategies"

Vineeta Thapa

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. What kind of article is this? Magazine, Journal?
2. Rewrite the Title. Mention the place.
3. Provide a clear and explicit thesis statement or research question to outline the main objective or purpose of the paper.
4. Increase the use of references and citations to support claims and recommendations.
5. Check punctuation, spelling, and grammar for clarity, correctness, and proper sentence structure. Avoid short forms.
6. Ensure consistent formatting style for citations, references, and overall structure.
7. Reorganize paragraphs to enhance the flow of ideas and logical progression in the article.
8. Integrate relevant theoretical frameworks, models, or existing literature on mental health support in emergency planning.
9. Expand the conclusion to provide a comprehensive summary of the main findings, implications, and specific recommendations for future research or practical steps.