Dear Sir

The article you asked me to review is a good quality article.

The scientific content is very interesting; the authors presented a contribution in the treated subject and the results obtained are excellent.

The form of the article largely meets the criteria imposed by the various publishers to accept articles of rank A and B.

Therefore I think the revised article has great potential for publication in a class A journal.

greetings