TRAF4 Gene

National Cancer Institute

Source

This gene is involved in signal transduction and development. It plays a putative role in the positive regulation of apoptosis in response to cellular stress.