Financial literacy has an important role in the growth of MSMEs. The Lack of Financial information is a major functional and internal obstacle to depriving MSMEs of approaching financial institutions for financing and using credits to maintain and run business operations. Financial literacy will help the entrepreneur to reach the logical decision to use credits the assist in making better financial decisions regarding budgeting and managing expenses. Scholars have pointed out a very important aspect for future research to reduce financial stress and anxiety. It's my suggestion to incorporate the evaluation of the creditor's financial statement or cashflow statement which will strengthen the study more before the publishing or accepting the paper.
