

Review of: "A Systematic Review and Meta-Analysis of Psychotherapeutic Approaches for Recurring Nightmares"

Antonio Onofri

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare .

The paper is interesting. It is rather clear and can be published.

It would be interesting to have some additional information, if available, about the length of the different treatments, the quickness of the effectiveness of the different treatments, the presence of follow - ups.

Apart these possible adds, the paper is good and I support its publication.