Dear Qeios editors, I appreciate your consideration for the review of the article: "Determinants of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) Sustainable Development in Africa". Likewise, I extend the following recommendations

It is suggested to delve deeper into the theory by deeply analyzing the literature to give more support to the study.

In the same way, it is suggested to specify the source of data obtained through the survey

Provide the survey used in the research

Describe the sample used in the study, who took the survey and details so that the relevance of the responses can be identified.

Describe where these MSMES are specifically located in Africa or was it throughout Africa.

If the information was downloaded from the first source, describe the link from which the database was downloaded, in addition to describing the previous points.

Specify what the inclusion or exclusion criteria were or only with the calculation of the sample, the first ones, the last ones were analyzed or describe how the MSMES were selected.

In the linear regression table and the verification of hypotheses there are inconsistencies, in the table it describes not being significant and in the results and conclusions they determine that they are significant, review and justify the statements

The decision on the article is to condition the article to accept only if the requested changes are met, send again for review

Thank you again for your kind regards.
