Review of: "Publish or perish: time for a rethink?"

Harsh Deora

1 National Institute of Mental Health and Neuro Sciences

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The opinion piece on publish or perish though relevant proves what it preaches: “Publish and publish with no one reading”. The article though well written does not add:

1. New scientific evidence
2. Summarize anything in a coherent manner
3. Echoes what has been said multiple times
4. Does not provide any major solutions to the known problems
5. Advance knowledge in academic publishing.

Hence though well written I would refrain from positively reviewing it as the same reads like a blog post rather than a scientific article.