

Review of: "Procurement Planning & the Rwanda Biomedical Centre (RBC)"

Shivendra Singh<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Baba Farid University of Health Sciences

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript is ordered and written well. The examination of pertinent literature, introduction, problem statement, and conclusions are commendable.

The author ought to give a more thorough description of the Rwanda Biomedical Centre (RBC) and its purpose in the introduction. They ought to talk about the difficulties RBC has been having with its procurement procedures.

There is duplication between the opening paragraphs of Section 3 Methodology and its subsection 3.2 Study population and sampling.

A set of interview questions can be found in the appendix for readers' better understanding and to assist others in their further research.

"Improving Procurement Practices through Effective Planning: A Case Study of the Rwanda Biomedical Centre (RBC)" might be a better title for the manuscript.

The manuscript is excellent overall.