

Review of: "Internet of Things in Smart Grid: A Comprehensive Review of Opportunities, Trends, and Challenges"

Salman Yussof¹

¹ Universiti Tenaga Nasional

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper provides a good overview of IoT and its application in the smart grid. The paper is also quite well written and uses good English.

On the other hand, the review is too high level and lacks depth or details. Section 4 should be incorporated into Section 3 since both are talking about the applications of IoT. It also does not seem appropriate that only cyber security is further elaborated with the description of potential solutions.