

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Pichia fermentans

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Pichia fermentans. NCI Thesaurus. Code C127740.

A species of yeast in the phylum Ascomycota that occurs singly, in pairs, or in short chains and that produces 2-4 hat-shaped ascospores per ascus. This species is a normal member of the flora of skin, mouth, and vagina, and is also found in the environment.