

Review of: "Assessing the Impact of a Group Intervention on the Mental Well-being of Undergraduate Healthcare Students"

Hela Ghali

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The subject is very interesting. You've done a good job of presenting the problem, following the funnel-shaped reasoning from the general to the specific.

However, the bibliography is a little dated. We need to update the citations, especially as the subject now requires several publications.

With regard to methodology, given that this is a quasi-experimental study, you need to specify the primary endpoint and any secondary endpoints. In addition, I couldn't find any details on how you got your sample? Calculation of sample size, sampling methods...

What statistical tests are used for analysis?

I couldn't find the p-values to check whether the differences were statistically significant or not.

The discussion is very short, making it impossible to discuss your results properly.