Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I ask the authors to make the following additions and/or corrections:

1. At the end of the introduction, a sentence with the aim and objectives of the study must be inserted.
2. The sentences from the introduction that refer to the methods used in the study must be moved to the methodology section.
3. In the statistical data processing subsection, a sentence must be written in which you specify what type of statistical processing was used (eg descriptive or analytical, or both) and which indicators were used.

The paper is well written, I congratulate the authors for their work.

I agree with the publication of the paper after correcting the indicated aspects.

I suggest that the authors comply with the STROBE research methodology requirements for the articles they publish.

I wish you good health and a good day!
