Dear authors,

1- Authors should rewrite the abstract to ensure including clear study objective, methodology, finding, and recommendations.

2- The authors should restructure the paper. The structure is Abstract, Introduction, Literature review, Method, Results, Discussion, and Conclusion.

3- After the Literary Review, you should clearly and specifically state the purpose of the study, and then present hypotheses (if you have them). The main section in terms of content and volume is the Results. Conclusions should be devoted to the demonstration of the idea of the article, to indicate the result and its novelty, and, most importantly, what conclusions should be drawn from the results.

All the best,
