

Review of: "Understanding dis-functionalities in multi-agency policy collaborations in Kenya"

Noluthando Matsiliza¹

¹ Walter Sisulu University for Technology and Science

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This article adds value to multi-agency policy collaborations and governance because it reflects on scarce research of composites of trust in public organisations. It provides a broad reflection on the discourse of these agencies, conceptualising inter-institutional trust and considering three key features such as bureaucratic structures, cultural or natural systems and environmental variables. There are lessons to be learnt from the dysfunctionalities in multi-agency policy collaborations.