

Review of: "Factors influencing variable symptoms of COVID-19 patients and proposed revision of public policy for COVID-19 vaccination"

Magesh Ramasamy¹

¹ Sri Ramachandra University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

- Article lacks the novelty and clinical confirmation.
- The Introduction does not cover the topics that the authors want to discuss in the further paper
- The information provided is very basic and is already published in many Journals. No new findings are written
- Overall the authors can think about developing the paper with statistics, clinical samples and experimental data