

Review of: "Active Peacebuilding as a Challenging Task of the Catholic Social Ethics"

Jan Pospisil<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Coventry University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This article is difficult to review due to my lack of knowledge in theology and Christian ontology. I would only recommend to link the work closer to contemporary work in peace and conflict studies which is not mentioned at all, particularly works that come out of the more religious field, John Paul Lederach for instance. Without providing such linkage, it will be difficult for the article to find broader traction.