

Review of: "Redefining borders in the contested territory between San Pedro and San Andres Cholula"

Ivy Alana Rieger¹

¹ Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This article provides pertinent contemporary insight on the nationally relevant topic of borders, particularly in urban areas. The article is well written, clear, and has an adequate bibliography with recent statistical sources. The maps and tables used provide valuable visual aids for understanding the question of borders between the two Cholulas. I would only recommend expanding the conclusion with more specific recommendations or observations regarding this issue. Otherwise, the article is highly descriptive in nature.