

Review of: "Medical students' disease status of COVID-19: A multicenter study"

Erengül Boduç<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Kafkas University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The topic of the article is a very nice, original and well thought out topic.

However, the study is statistically weak. A five-point Likert test could be used or questions could be prepared in that template. But it is still an acceptable article. In the conclusion section, the authors can add some more interesting sentences or results. The comment could be a little more.