

Review of: "[Short Communication] Individual opinions on the excessive and under diagnosis and treatment of thyroid cancer"

Peter Issing<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Klinikum Bad Hersfeld

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In my opinion the author clearly outlines the different strategies for the management of differentiated thyroid carcinoma. What I would recommend for improvement is a personal recommendation for the proper attitude to this disease from the author's perspective. He discusses the two sides of the medal very plausibly, however, he leaves the reader alone in the dilemma between under diagnosis and overtreatment. Perhaps he can add a concise remark how he is dealing with this significant problem.