

Review of: "Factors contributing to labour unrest at the garment factories in Bangladesh: A cross-sectional study"

Hasan Oudah Abdullah¹

¹ University of Basrah

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

An interesting topic discusses an attractive topic, but there are a few points to discuss:

- 1- I prefer to reinforce the introduction and build hypotheses with updated sources, during the last three years. More specifically with regard to identifying the knowledge gap of the study.
- 2- Suggest clarifying the methodology used in the study to be clear.
- 3- The theoretical contributions are weak, the results should be discussed with previous theories and literature.
- 4- The effects of the practice need to be developed and improved

good luck