

Review of: "A Policy Dialogue for Nutrition of Women and Adolescent Girls: Sustainable Development Goals Matters Arising"

Ashleigh Pencil

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This article is interesting and highlights important undernutrition related health issues in Rwanda. Here are some point to enhance this article.

1. The writing style can be improved in some instances and avoid phrases like "wicked problems. "
2. There is a bias towards pregnant girls and women. Which nutrition challenges are being faced by adolescent girls who are not pregnant?
3. Communities in Rwanda may benefit from nutrition education programs which promote nutrition gardens where each family grows more food to improve family nutrition.