

Review of: "Aquaponics Unveiled: Efficient Household Farming"

Serena Carpentieri¹

¹ University of Salerno

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The present manuscript, involving a comprehensive description of the aquaponics systems, is well written and is very interesting for promoting the technique presented. However, it seems more qualitative and not enough scientifically sound since no experimental studies or analyses of the main and crucial parameters involved in these type of systems have been conducted and presented.

Moreover, the discussion section can be improved and expanded.

Minor English revision is also needed (e.g. line 2: the fish consumes)

It would be better to move Figure 1, Figure 2 and Figure 7 after they are cited in the text and not before.

Ensure that all the references are cited in the body of the manuscript.

Finally, the conclusions can also be improved by adding and discussing the main challenges or drawbacks to be faced and the related future perspectives.