The work has a broad and exact vision of the context where it is developed, analyzes a series of relevant aspects of great importance for the academic world and offers truly very powerful elements.

I believe that the analysis could be opened up a little more and other aspects in addition to those analyzed could be integrated, which could favor the greater scope of the work.

Organizing the work by analyzing one city first, the other next, then the third and ending with a comparison, I think could facilitate the understanding of the work.

Proposing the landmarks and prominent or meeting places of the city would mark certain relevant behavioral guidelines as well.

The advantages and disadvantages of each of the characteristics of the cities is another element that could be assessed within the comparison mentioned above.

However, the work has significant value for professionals and scholars of the urban context. Furthermore, the analysis provided by the aforementioned cities offers added value.
