Overall, the paper is an interesting read, but i have few minor remarks.

Abstract

Introduction: What do the authors mean by uneven research?

Methods: Why a p value of 0.25, it is quite big compared to the standard 0.05

Results: specify which gender its associated with in this section

Introduction

Why are the authors citing a prevalence study of 2017 in 2023? if possible, let us use recent data.

The paragraph that starts with 'The prevalence of disclosure...there is a repetition of the word disclosure of/helps after every new sentence. All this could be summed in one sentence.

Results

Why religion if it was not used anywhere in analysis?

Discussion

The first two paragraphs explain the results, but don't give a detailed discussion why the authors think so. In the third paragraph, authors are comparing the study with other similar studies. we need to discuss our findings before we start comparison.
