Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The author made a good attempt at sourcing good primary data for empirical findings. However, the article is not well situated in the literature, beginning with background on the cash crunch crisis in the world and Nigeria, as well as a conceptual review of key issues. Also, the methodology is not stated; it is an observational design (participant observation data) that is pictorial and descriptively analyzed. The interviewees should be designated respondents, while banks' names should be deleted for ethical compliance.
