

Review of: "Mapping the Canadian Research Landscape in 2023"

Ghassan Abdul-Majeed¹

¹ University of Baghdad

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I appreciate the efforts made by the authors to analyze the publications of Canadian institutes through 2023. Based on my experience in researching indicators of persons and institutes, the outputs of the manuscript are easy to obtain for active researchers. The literature is replete with such articles. To make the manuscript informative and deserving of high readability, I advise the authors to

1. Investigate the problems associated with publication.
2. Propose recommendations and solutions.
3. Considering the size of the compared universities (number of researchers).
4. Discuss the H-Index values of the compared universities.
5. Analyze the number of citations of the included universities.
6. Considering the peer-review activities of the adopted universities.
7. Discuss the quarters of journals of the published articles.

Good luck