

Review of: "Ruminal CO<sub>2</sub> Holdup Monitoring: Acidosis Might Be Caused by CO<sub>2</sub> Poisoning"

Emrah Yerlikaya<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Siirt University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This remarkable study is worth publishing, but there are a few issues that need to be corrected. The last section of the Introduction to the Manuscript needs to be revised. Personal pronouns such as I, me, and my should be removed throughout the Manuscript. Page layout must be checked. Text must be aligned on both sides. Abbreviations used in the text are given only once. Repetitive abbreviations should be avoided, such as total inorganic carbon (TIC), subacute ruminal acidosis (SARA).