

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Double-Unit Umbilical Cord Blood Transplantation

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Double-Unit Umbilical Cord Blood Transplantation. NCI Thesaurus. Code C116470.

The transfusion of two units of umbilical cord blood, one unit from each of two patients. This is mostly commonly done as a form of stem cell transplant for patients with leukemia, lymphoma, or other serious blood disease who require a bone marrow transplant, but for whom no suitable donor can be found.