

Open Peer Review on Qeios

High Field Strength Magnetic Resonance Imaging

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. High Field Strength Magnetic Resonance Imaging. NCI Thesaurus. Code C116455.

A type of magnetic resonance imaging that uses larger, stronger magnets to generate faster scans and higher resolution images.

Qeios ID: N7D8Z9 · https://doi.org/10.32388/N7D8Z9