

Review of: "[Case Report] A Rare Case of Carcinoma Erysipeloides After TNBC Mastectomy: Challenges in Diagnosis and Implications for Treatment"

Weeratian Tawanwongsri

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Could you please describe the skin lesions in detail, specifying their morphology in the text and referencing Figures 1 and 2? Also, describing the consistency of the skin lesions might assist in differentiating them from En cuirasse.
2. The paragraph beginning with "Carcinoma erysipeloïdes is characterized by erythematous, ..." located after Figure 1, should be relocated to the discussion section, rather than included in the case presentation section.
3. Would you kindly specify the location of the skin lesion? Is it on the breast? However, it appears that the skin biopsy was performed on the abdomen.
4. Please provide a differential diagnosis based on Figure 1 in the discussion section.
5. The sentences within the discussion section require appropriate citations.