Respiratory Secretion Viscosity Alteration

National Cancer Institute

Source
National Cancer Institute. Respiratory Secretion Viscosity Alteration. NCI Thesaurus.
Code C40945.

Respiratory Secretion Viscosity Alteration involves a change in the quality of the existing state of thickness of fluids released from cells in the respiratory tract. Such alterations increase or decrease blockage of air passages.