

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Effervescent Tablet Inhalation Vapor

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Effervescent Tablet Inhalation Vapor. NCI Thesaurus. Code C149583.

Solid preparation consisting of a tablet usually containing acid substances and carbonates or hydrogen carbonates that react rapidly in the presence of aqueous liquid to release carbon dioxide, intended for generation of vapor to be inhaled to obtain a local effect. The vapor may be generated by adding the tablet to hot water.