Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I have marked the majority of areas of concern in the paper. In particular, the following need to be addressed.

1. Revise the Title
2. The abstract needs to be revised
3. The introduction needs to be revised to highlight strengths and weaknesses of previous studies, and carefully create the niche/research gap for the present study
4. The last section of the introduction needs to be expunged
5. Materials and methods need to be more elaborate, and also order the information logically
6. Results: reconsider formatting the Tables so that they don't spill across pages
7. Discussion is over-segmented
8. Revise the conclusion and tie it up with recommendations and directions for future research
