

Review of: "Public Health Care Leadership Competencies Through the Lens of the COVID-19 Pandemic: A Review of What Matters in Managing Global Health Crisis"

Francisco J. Sastre<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Escuela Superior de Gestion Comercial y Marketing (ESIC)

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is of relevance to the academic and social community. It is solid and well argued. Opinion leaders have played a very important role in the management of the crisis, both nationally and internationally, and the study makes a very good case for this.

The research has the right methodology for this type of research and is very relevant to the purpose.

The data input is comprehensive and aims to conduct a complete and global investigation, which brings coherence to the study.

The theoretical framework is well considered and complete.

The conclusions are clear and well supported.

The bibliographical references considered are very adequate and abundant in this context.

For all these reasons, I consider the article of great interest for publication.