

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Birdshot chorioretinopathy

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. Birdshot chorioretinopathy. ORPHA:179

Birdshot chorioretinopathy is a posterior uveitis characterized by multiple cream-colored, hypopigmented choroidal lesions in the fundus and a strong association with HLA-A29 and clinically presenting with blurred vision, floaters, photopsia, scotoma and nyctalopia.