

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Vulvar Lichen Sclerosus

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Vulvar Lichen Sclerosus. NCI Thesaurus. Code C27723.

A chronic inflammatory disorder of unknown etiology that affects the vulva. It is characterized by the development of white elevated plaques in the vulva. Histologically there is marked subepithelial fibrosis. Clinical manifestations include pruritus, dysuria, and dyspareunia.