This is an interesting paper and the content is very good, but I suggest the paper can be improved in the following ways:

Abstract

-In the conclusion part, it is necessary to specify the researcher's proposal to improve the conditions and use of the beneficiaries.

Introduction

Please bring the following items:

- 1- Definition of the research problem
- 2- The magnitude and importance of the study variable
- 3- Expressing the necessity of conducting the study

Methods

Please report the details, scoring, and validations of study tools.

Discussion

In the discussion section, it is necessary to compare the main results of the study with the results of other studies in this field.

What are the strengths and limitations of the study?

The introduction and discussion of the article can be strengthened.

Conclusion

- What are your suggestions for future studies?

Best regards,
