Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The abstract of the article is too brief; appropriate expansion and generalization are useful.
2. A more in-depth review of related work is helpful to the development of this paper. This will allow people to better understand the contribution and novelty of the proposed scheme.
3. This paper lacks a clear explanation of the implementation details of replication research. It would be helpful to provide more information. It is beneficial to organize the content reasonably and more clearly.
4. The literature is too old; it is recommended to refer to or compare the literature of the past three years.
