

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Hypochondroplasia

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Hypochondroplasia. NCI Thesaurus. Code C118697.

An autosomal dominant disorder that is often caused by a defect in fibroblast growth factor receptor 3, and characterized by short stature, micromelia, and a comparatively large head. The features are milder than those seen in achondroplasia.