Thank you for your manuscript. In my opinion it is a nice job.

I suggest you to improve the backgroun section focusing on the role of an active lifestyle and its promotion by government to maintain acceptable level of well-being.

In you desire, I invite you to have a look at my article (see link below) about the COVID-19 pandemic effect on well-being and active life style in North-western Italy. This manuscript may help you to enrich this part or may provide some new ideas to empower this section.
