

Open Peer Review on Qeios

TORCH Antibody Measurement

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. TORCH Antibody Measurement. NCI Thesaurus. Code C98602.

A group of blood tests used to detect antibodies to Toxoplasma gondii, rubella, cytomegalovirus, and herpes simplex virus to rule out congenital infections. A group of other infections may be tested as well, including varicella-zoster virus, hepatitis B virus, human immunodeficiency virus, parvovirus B19, and syphilis.