The topic reported by authors is important and very interesting for public health. However, few observations are there:

- 1) The abstract can be increased to few more sentences to provide a better overview of the study.
- 2) The authors stated about the acronym CINVESTAV. This needs expansion.
- 3) The relationship of metformin and dengue needs more studies as study in a local area cannot be generalized.
- 4) The paper needs clarity in presentation
- 5) Recommendations of abstract are missing.
- 6) References for home remedies like coconut water, grapes etc. for dengue treatment should be given.
- 7) English grammar, syntax need improvement.
- 8) Generic names and specific names to be italicized.
