Thank you authors for allowing me to review your article entitled `` Review of: Italian Position Paper (SIPMO-SICMF) on Medication-Related Osteonecrosis of the Jaw (MRONJ)``. You have described the present understanding of MRONJ very well in your review.

Introduction: The context of the review has been explicitly narrated

Methodology: Since it is a review article you should describe the literature search, the search engines used inclusion and exclusion criteria, results and the outcomes, etc.

Definition; The shortcomings of the existing definition are highlighted and a revised definition is given.

The authors described the epidemiology and staging of MRONJ vividly.

Though nonspecific the possible clinical features of the condition are given

The plain X-ray and CT findings are described and the importance of taking a CT scan is also highlighted.

They have described the criteria for the diagnosis of a suspected and established case.

The authors also presented the local, systemic, and drug-related risk factors and methods for risk assessment.

The authors described in detail the prevention and treatment strategies.

In my opinion, this review gives an up to date knowledge regarding the MRONJ.
